

Name:
Period:

Date:

What's in a Name? Names in Genesis

Across

- "Son of my vigor" or "son of affliction."
- Egyptian for "belonging to Neith."
- Shortened form of an Egyptian name meaning "He whom Ra gave."
- Hebrew transliteration of an Egyptian name meaning, "the god speaks and he lives."
- "Ewe."
- "God Most High."
- "Life."
- "God has heard."
- "God the Eternal."
- "The face of God."
- "God of Vision"
- "He [the Lord] heard."
- Similar to the Hebrew for "son of my kin."
- "I will give grateful praise."
- An older name for Bethel.
- Name similar to the Hebrew verb for the red light of dawn, in this case referring to a crimson thread.
- "Smith" or "to create."
- "Vapor" or "nothing."
- Egyptian for "house."
- "House of God."

Down

- "He made me forget."
- "God the Almighty" (incorrectly).
- "Fallen Ones."
- Related to the Hebrew for "God has made me fruitful."
- "God has made me fruitful."
- "The father is exalted."
- Cain was there eponymous ancestor.
- "Son of the right hand," or possibly, "Southerner."
- Possibly "I engaged in a fateful struggle."
- A story that is told to explain the origin of a race, nation or people.
- "He will become attached."
- "You contended with divine beings."
- "God".
- A person after which a race, nation, or people is named.
- "In my good fortune."
- "He saw my misery," or possibly "he will love me."
- "Laughter."
- "Hairy."
- "Princess."
- "May he add."
- "He has vindicated me."
- "Human being."
- An alternative name for Esau, meaning "reddish."
- "In luck."
- Similar to the Hebrew for "from my father."
- "breach."